

For example, our name was originally "Kitchens", not "Kitchen". So my dad, Steve, asked why was his great-grandfather's name "Kitchens" and his grandpa's name was "Kitchen".

It was only discussed once... there was some trouble one time and they had to move and they dropped the "s". What kind of trouble? Who was in trouble? We don't know and those that may have known, are no longer with us.

Because it wasn't talked about, we don't know either, but maybe they had their reasons, I don't know. I guess sometimes, the mystery of it, makes it more interesting than the actual story might have been.
